Atkinson's Saturday Evening Post.

A FAMILY NEWSPAPER—DEVOTED TO NEWS, LITERATURE, SCIENCE, MORALITY, AGRICULTURE AND AMUSEMENT.

Vol. XVI. Philadelphia, March 18, 1837. Whole No. 816.

For the Saturday Evening Post.

A DREAM OF FANCY.

The sun was in the western sky,
And gorgeous clouds were floating round him
And after his bright reign on high
Was where the yesterday had found him;
While that the dawn of day had shed
And beams of glory dash'd the west,
Immortal in thought, in mind and breast,
I found I broke the chain of rest.
The morning rosies softly flowing
Were gilded by his parting beam,
Tillrose he silver sea light glowing
Locked of his refulgent gleam.
A charm the calm air was pervading
As the last light of day was fading,
For Fancy with her colours bright
Had o'er the sullen face of night.
Oh! how my spirit loves to soar
On Fancy's rainbow wings to roam,
To feel her wedding magic power
While gazing on the vault of heaven.
And gazing on some glorious angel there
With snowy wings and robe so fair
And thus it was on that calm night
Imagination wing'd its flight,
And o'er the deep blue tranquil sea
Far off a form did seem to be,
Whose beauty was unrivaled
Behind a cloud that had revealed.
The warmth of my mind, and Fancy made
The form appear more beautiful
I thought the dawn cloud parted,
And ever of more gazing through.
What of such fair form could be?
Could come to me and would like me.
Unless it were a spirit
That came my spirit to entice
Whose memory of the past had stored
Those charms that I beheld
Before me, who came to me
When such a mother gay can escape
For thou art not, alas! left me.
The music of the lyres has ceased
No longer did the nymphs rejoice
The evening's gay delights are o'er
And darkness veiled the flowers among
The earth's side.
But night has not a power to me,
Bring angel! was it such with thee
Who gave me kind and spirit true.
And on my bosom pillowed
Wipe tear that death had not relieved.
Alas! that was the last
The pain of one so dearly loved,
Whose sufferings had the my mercy
And to that end I prayed
Therefore then might leave whispered thee
Oh! let me quickly part company
That might not be
And refuse to satisfy me true
Oh say that was so kind and true
And did thy spirit
Sooner comfort to that weary soul,
And whisper, on thy GOD depend
And He will shield
And He will keep thee from all ill,
Now peace, and sorrow weep no more,
And bless at for the good is more. THEODULA.

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

NAMES.

Looking the other day over Bailey's dictionary for the signification of the name of Ann, I found accidentally cast my eyes on the word Annihilation, a little further on Annihilator, and then Annihilator, and then Annihilator, and then

FOREIGN VARIETIES.

An attempt was made to assassinate the Sultan of Turkey, by an ex-Janissary, who shot at him with an air-gun. The weapon and nine cartridges were found in sacks and thrown into the Bosphorus.

Prince Ferdinand, husband of the Queen of Portugal, was married by a Franciscan monk at Mayence, on the 24th of January, who threw a large stone at him, but did not strike the Prince, who was on horseback. Mayence was untenable. The ball been an enough in the Queen's service, and was supposed to be insane.

Frozen Provisions.—The Liverpool New Publications of several days, that frozen provisions are arranged of thawed in open day, but that if thawed in darkness they do not rot, and lose very little of their odour and properties.

Fifteen persons, who were at the Pool banquet at Glasgow, have since died from the effects of the prevailing epidemic.

The house of Mosley, Sweet & Co. extensive bill brokers, stopped payment on Friday, in London.

Parliament.—Parliament opened on Tuesday, the 21st January. The Reformers were in large spirits.

Pagania has arrived at Marseilles, where it is said he intends to give concerts.

The mansion-house of Wyndcroake, Cossel, Switzerland, 56 feet in circumference, was razed up by the late storms.

Heavy Invoices.—The King of Prussia is seriously indisposed: constants suffered with fever and vomiting. Also, the King of Denmark has a violent cough, attended with fever.

A Princely Geographer.—A new map of Persia has been made by a native prince, Malek-kassen-Mirza, which he writes to the Geographical Society of Paris, of which he is a member, that he shall shortly publish.

The remains of Malibran are now finally interred at the Church of Laeken, a resting-place of her own, which she built and furnished in the best style.

M. Malmart has exhibited to the French Academy of Sciences, an instrument for conveying the liquids into the cavity of the body, and for drinking them. Also a substitute for bottles in the shape of corking glass.

The prince Nicholas Esterhazy is about to marry Mademoiselle Pauline, aged 17, and grand daughter of Talleyrand.

It has been calculated that no less a sum than seventeen millions of francs have been lost in Paris since 1830, by unsuccessful attempts to establish periodical works.

The divorce of a white lead manufacturer in France, the grounds of the decree stated as the presence of a white powder covering the furniture of the house.

The King and Queen dowager of Prussia had a narrow escape from being burnt to death, by the accidental ignition of their clothes on the 25th of January.

The King and Queen of Greece arrived at Trieste on the 24th of January, on their way to Athens. Their arrival at Lyons on the 20th of January, was the occasion of public rejoicings, and the streets were illuminated. The Queen was indisposed from the fatigues of the journey.

The origin of the conflagration was a conversation.

Baptista Cassas arrived in Paris on the 19th of February.

Letters from Madrid say that General Real is to be appointed commander in the army of the North, in the room of Espartero, who was flying dispatches at Bilbao, and is now somewhat out of favor on account of his inactivity.

A meeting of the foreign journalist and merchants has been held in Lima, at the request of the Peruvian minister at Chili, and Peru, and the result was a memorial, inviting the powers to their governments, request that they will interfere to put an end to the civil war.

Foreign Petitions.—The Liverpool Mercury states that petitions have been presented to the House of Commons from Liverpool, Manchester, Glasgow, and other towns, against the Russian and Prussian corn laws, and that petit

GN NEWS.

Evening Star, March 11.

PORTANT FROM EUROPE.

Britain Reposed and England Génius, packet ship Utica, Hoxie, Feb. 3d, 30 days' date. The most important intelligence from the Peninsula, indicating a defeat and England, are the most prominent in the Black Sea, of the Russians, with sad forebodings of the coast of Circassia, and the whole of that country, where the Nobles are determined to resist the Russians, a subscription of 300,000 rubles, to aid in completing a Rail Road from Petersburg to the shores of Lake Erie,—which are being actively circulated in favor of the great work, in conjunction with Rail Roads between Philadelphia and Lancaster, which bend Philadelphia more than ever work of the kind.

ingle of the sugar made from the beet has been hit at the Academy of Sci. Mr. Joseph Fleming, by whom it was manufactured,—a high laboratory under great disadvantages gard to the necessary machinery, and in the necessaries of the profession has succeeded producing an article, which for purity of sugar, is really deserving of attention. We understand that the seed for the sugar beet, recommended at the agent of sufferings, No. 61 Arcade.

STERN AND WESTERN PAPERS.

Pittsburg Saturday Evening Visiter contains a malicious and situational comparison between the Eastern and Western Newspapers, in which it is said that a Western Family can take Eastern Family papers to aid in circulation and of the Visiter.

The Visiter, however, wishes to make it appear that the Saturday Evening Post is received in the Western papers are made to "Sunday Reading," and small matters of the paper, while the Visiter should have named the Paper respectively, and in addition, to which it is made up, and the Post. Knowing that the comparison could be made as to the existing equipment, as Eastern Papers must feel, predicated upon the number of their circulation, we applied to E. Vosier—H—for the number of copies from the Visiter, and as far as our books serves, from any other western or Saturday Evening Visiter was set up to as a of the Saturday Evening Post. The Visiter, therefore, and unfortunately, that it has taken the Post as a model and if this article has been prepared by a friend of the Visiter, was learning the S. L. Post a large proportion of its subscribers, and we should be sorry to have any thing evidently made up from his paper.

The article is evidently an interested one, and we have no doubt that the Visiter will soon ascertain unfortunately situated the Pittsburgh Visiter from their exchange list.

President of Texas, has directed Commodore Hull, to collect the remains of those soldiers who fell in the battle of the siege of the Alamo, and to have them interred in a spot of war. The latter ceremony will no doubt be solemn and impressive, to the highest degree.

ers. Carey, Lea & Blanchard have republished the popular novel of Jacob Faithful. It is well written and attained great popularity in England, at the time of its publication.

House Keeper's Book containing advice conduct of House-hold affairs, with a collection of Receipts for Economical and valuable Cookery, by a Lady.

Published by Carey, Lea & Blanchard.

This work cannot be excelled in point of utility, need not be in every city, person's library. Its receipts are numerous and

Wallace—The editor of the Yankee, N. H. Register, has published a letter to the editor of the article headed "Wheat," recently published in the N. Y. Post. Our friend has evidently been misled by some of the people of the United States, who have for several years sown in the city of New, and we are therefore at a loss to determine what is meant by the "Wheat" which they may, forsooth, have sown well enough.

ADVANTAGES OF MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A well-selected reading is adapted to the many tastes of different conditions, but justice to the interests of those who persisted in the cause of liberty, demands a more favorable judgment from the people of the United States than they have yet awarded them. Their merits will expand

Mr. Harrington the distinguished Ventriloquist and Magician, positively closes his exhibitions at the American Museum, on the 25th inst. so your call.

CONVENANT AND BEAVER RAIL ROAD.

A citizens of Pittsburgh in town meeting, resolved with the citizens of Beaver county, appointed Commissioners of the Beaver and Connellsville Rail Road, in pertaining from the Legislature of Pennsylvania, a subscription of 300, dollars, to aid in completing a Rail Road Pittsburg to the shores of Lake Erie,—which are being actively circulated in favor of the great work, in conjunction with Rail Roads between Philadelphia and Lancaster, which bend Philadelphia more than ever work of the kind.

ENTIONS.

Mr. Joseph Fleming, by whom it was manufactured,—a high laboratory under great disadvantages gard to the necessary machinery, and in the necessaries of the profession has succeeded producing an article, which for purity of sugar, is really deserving of attention. We understand that the seed for the sugar beet, recommended at the agent of sufferings, No. 61 Arcade.

STERN AND WESTERN PAPERS.

Pittsburg Saturday Evening Visiter contains a malicious and situational comparison between the Eastern and Western Newspapers, in which it is said that a Western Family can take Eastern Family papers to aid in circulation and of the Visiter.

The Visiter, however, wishes to make it appear that the Saturday Evening Post is received in the Western papers are made to "Sunday Reading," and small matters of the paper, while the Visiter should have named the Paper respectively, and in addition, to which it is made up, and the Post. Knowing that the comparison could be made as to the existing equipment, as Eastern Papers must feel, predicated upon the number of their circulation, we applied to E. Vosier—H—for the number of copies from the Visiter, and as far as our books serves, from any other western or Saturday Evening Visiter was set up to as a of the Saturday Evening Post. The Visiter, therefore, and unfortunately, that it has taken the Post as a model and if this article has been prepared by a friend of the Visiter, was learning the S. L. Post a large proportion of its subscribers, and we should be sorry to have any thing evidently made up from his paper.

The article is evidently an interested one, and we have no doubt that the Visiter will soon ascertain unfortunately situated the Pittsburgh Visiter from their exchange list.

President of Texas, has directed Commodore Hull, to collect the remains of those soldiers who fell in the battle of the siege of the Alamo, and to have them interred in a spot of war. The latter ceremony will no doubt be solemn and impressive, to the highest degree.

ers. Carey, Lea & Blanchard have republished the popular novel of Jacob Faithful. It is well written and attained great popularity in England, at the time of its publication.

House Keeper's Book containing advice conduct of House-hold affairs, with a collection of Receipts for Economical and valuable Cookery, by a Lady.

Published by Carey, Lea & Blanchard.

This work cannot be excelled in point of utility, need not be in every city, person's library. Its receipts are numerous and

Wallace—The editor of the Yankee, N. H. Register, has published a letter to the editor of the article headed "Wheat," recently published in the N. Y. Post. Our friend has evidently been misled by some of the people of the United States, who have for several years sown in the city of New, and we are therefore at a loss to determine what is meant by the "Wheat" which they may, forsooth, have sown well enough.

ADVANTAGES OF MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A well-selected reading is adapted to the many tastes of different conditions, but justice to the interests of those who persisted in the cause of liberty, demands a more favorable judgment from the people of the United States than they have yet awarded them. Their merits will expand

TRINSON'S SATURDAY EVENING POST.

PHILADELPHIA.

Saturday, March 18, 1837.

We are indebted to J. N. Bernton, Esq. for a copy of an address, delivered at South Coventry, Connecticut, by Andrew T. Judson, at the request of the Hale Monument Association, Nov. 25th, 1836.

From the articles of association annexed to this address, it appears that this society has been formed for the purpose of erecting a suitable monument, by subscription, to the memory of the patriotic Captain Nutton Hale, who was executed as a rebel by the British Government during the American Revolution.

From the brief abstract, contained in the pamphlet before us, we learn that this lamented officer had just completed his collegiate studies, when the battle of Lexington kindled within his breast, a spark of patriotism and love of country, which immediately conducted him into the field for its defence. Before arriving at the age of twenty-one, a captain's commission was tendered him, and he soon became an efficient officer in the continental army, where his talents, zeal and ardent patriotism commanded universal admiration.

In the summer of 1776, the main body of the American army was called to the defence of the city of New York, and its vicinity. The public exigency had selected their landing upon Long-Island, embodying a force far superior in numbers and discipline, to those engaged in defending this country. General Washington found it necessary to withdraw the American army from the island, and that movement was conducted with singular ability and success, on the morning of the 30th day of August, 1776. Captain Hale's company was selected to cover the retreat, fortunately escaped capture. This was a period of deep interest to the whole country. But a few days previous, the continental congress had given to the world a declaration of independence, an event in its importance and vitality of the sugar beet, recommended at the agent of sufferings, No. 61 Arcade.

The American army sought refuge in the city of New York, and while there, it became important to ascertain the numerical force and condition of the British army, which was then encamped on Long Island. Upon the result of this reconnoissance depended the safety of the American army, and perhaps the American nation.

The commander-in-chief, at a crisis so important, solicited the services of a man of courage and zeal, and the result of that request was to send one more competent to the task, into the heart of the enemy's encampments than Captain Hale. He was charged with the selection of an individual to perform this service. The nature of the service was appalling, no doubt, a proposition was submitted to Hale. Knowing that the service must be made as to the existing equipment, as Eastern Papers must feel, predicated upon the number of their circulation, we applied to E. Vosier—H—for the number of copies from the Visiter, and as far as our books serves, from any other western or Saturday Evening Visiter was set up to as a of the Saturday Evening Post. The Visiter, therefore, and unfortunately, that it has taken the Post as a model and if this article has been prepared by a friend of the Visiter, was learning the S. L. Post a large proportion of its subscribers, and we should be sorry to have any thing evidently made up from his paper.

The article is evidently an interested one, and we have no doubt that the Visiter will soon ascertain unfortunately situated the Pittsburgh Visiter from their exchange list.

President of Texas, has directed Commodore Hull, to collect the remains of those soldiers who fell in the battle of the siege of the Alamo, and to have them interred in a spot of war. The latter ceremony will no doubt be solemn and impressive, to the highest degree.

ers. Carey, Lea & Blanchard have republished the popular novel of Jacob Faithful. It is well written and attained great popularity in England, at the time of its publication.

House Keeper's Book containing advice conduct of House-hold affairs, with a collection of Receipts for Economical and valuable Cookery, by a Lady.

Published by Carey, Lea & Blanchard.

This work cannot be excelled in point of utility, need not be in every city, person's library. Its receipts are numerous and

Wallace—The editor of the Yankee, N. H. Register, has published a letter to the editor of the article headed "Wheat," recently published in the N. Y. Post. Our friend has evidently been misled by some of the people of the United States, who have for several years sown in the city of New, and we are therefore at a loss to determine what is meant by the "Wheat" which they may, forsooth, have sown well enough.

ADVANTAGES OF MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A well-selected reading is adapted to the many tastes of different conditions, but justice to the interests of those who persisted in the cause of liberty, demands a more favorable judgment from the people of the United States than they have yet awarded them. Their merits will expand

Mr. Harrington the distinguished Ventriloquist and Magician, positively closes his exhibitions at the American Museum, on the 25th inst. so your call.

CONVENANT AND BEAVER RAIL ROAD.

A citizens of Pittsburgh in town meeting, resolved with the citizens of Beaver county, appointed Commissioners of the Beaver and Connellsville Rail Road, in pertaining from the Legislature of Pennsylvania, a subscription of 300, dollars, to aid in completing a Rail Road Pittsburg to the shores of Lake Erie,—which are being actively circulated in favor of the great work, in conjunction with Rail Roads between Philadelphia and Lancaster, which bend Philadelphia more than ever work of the kind.

ENTIONS.

Mr. Joseph Fleming, by whom it was manufactured,—a high laboratory under great disadvantages gard to the necessary machinery, and in the necessaries of the profession has succeeded producing an article, which for purity of sugar, is really deserving of attention. We understand that the seed for the sugar beet, recommended at the agent of sufferings, No. 61 Arcade.

STERN AND WESTERN PAPERS.

Pittsburg Saturday Evening Visiter contains a malicious and situational comparison between the Eastern and Western Newspapers, in which it is said that a Western Family can take Eastern Family papers to aid in circulation and of the Visiter.

The Visiter, however, wishes to make it appear that the Saturday Evening Post is received in the Western papers are made to "Sunday Reading," and small matters of the paper, while the Visiter should have named the Paper respectively, and in addition, to which it is made up, and the Post. Knowing that the comparison could be made as to the existing equipment, as Eastern Papers must feel, predicated upon the number of their circulation, we applied to E. Vosier—H—for the number of copies from the Visiter, and as far as our books serves, from any other western or Saturday Evening Visiter was set up to as a of the Saturday Evening Post. The Visiter, therefore, and unfortunately, that it has taken the Post as a model and if this article has been prepared by a friend of the Visiter, was learning the S. L. Post a large proportion of its subscribers, and we should be sorry to have any thing evidently made up from his paper.

The article is evidently an interested one, and we have no doubt that the Visiter will soon ascertain unfortunately situated the Pittsburgh Visiter from their exchange list.

President of Texas, has directed Commodore Hull, to collect the remains of those soldiers who fell in the battle of the siege of the Alamo, and to have them interred in a spot of war. The latter ceremony will no doubt be solemn and impressive, to the highest degree.

ers. Carey, Lea & Blanchard have republished the popular novel of Jacob Faithful. It is well written and attained great popularity in England, at the time of its publication.

House Keeper's Book containing advice conduct of House-hold affairs, with a collection of Receipts for Economical and valuable Cookery, by a Lady.

Published by Carey, Lea & Blanchard.

This work cannot be excelled in point of utility, need not be in every city, person's library. Its receipts are numerous and

Wallace—The editor of the Yankee, N. H. Register, has published a letter to the editor of the article headed "Wheat," recently published in the N. Y. Post. Our friend has evidently been misled by some of the people of the United States, who have for several years sown in the city of New, and we are therefore at a loss to determine what is meant by the "Wheat" which they may, forsooth, have sown well enough.

ADVANTAGES OF MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A well-selected reading is adapted to the many tastes of different conditions, but justice to the interests of those who persisted in the cause of liberty, demands a more favorable judgment from the people of the United States than they have yet awarded them. Their merits will expand

ANIMAL MAGNETISM.

The recent attempt to bring the theory of Animal Magnetism into vogue in the U. States, though long since exploded by the Sommons Enquirer, will be a sufficient apology for our neglect for devoting a one space to its consideration in this article. The last method of preventing the increase of medical quackery, and imposition, as well as of bringing into light any discovery that will really be beneficial to mankind, is by the publication of every authenticated fact which possess in relation to them.

The origin of the term Animal Magnetism, was a supposed analogy between the action of the magnet on certain metallic substances, and that of the animal or vital energy, which produces certain phenomena, in all substances in which it is contained. These phenomena are made evident, by the professors of this art, through various means, the most usual of which is magnetism according to prescribed forms, touching upon the subject of the operation, fixing the eyes upon him, &c. The effects are principally the lessening into action, various sensations both corporeal and mental among which are may instance, giddiness, pain, the sounded activity of the external senses, lastings, eventually sore sleep and vital dreams, during which the patient has a high degree of intellectual perception. In the latter state, that of magnetic sleep, the subject of the operation, can view the internal organization of his own body, and that of other persons, and medical prescriptions adapted to any disease they may possess, are immediately spoken, and is utterly unconscious when awakened, of any thing that has transpired during the state of magnetic stupor. The frequent attestation of credible witnesses to these facts, gives the subject a degree of importance, though its elder was referred to the experiments of a learned magnetician committee with morbid sensitiveness of special feeling.

Dr. Pascalis professor of the art who attempted to reduce it to a science, and who has given the assumed philosophical principles, was Anthony Mesmer, a native of Switzerland. His profession as a student of medicine led him to the publication of certain medical works, in which the subject was alluded to, in such a manner, as to excite their his attention entirely upon it. The result of his application was to a reduced belief in the existence of the magnetic fluid, and that it could be voided all animal life. Accordingly he submitted several practices afforded in different countries to the application of the mineral magnet, which was rubbed in different directions on their bodies. He afterwards tried the effect of placing the magnet in constant communication with the diseased parts, and it is stated with the most gratifying results. Further experimentation led him to discover that the magnet altogether and to supply the fluid from his own body, by manipulation, and the other means we have mentioned. Mesmer's practice soon became known to have been attended by success, or his medical skill acquired a great number attended contrary to their own intelligent Interest. The boldness and success with which they carried on their profession at Paris, obtained many proselytes among the most learned and scientific men of France and Germany, and in England, we are told, the system never obtained any permanent footing. So great was the success of this doctrine at this period at Paris, that a number of dollars. The aspect of the question had was then taken up on second reading, and passed by a vote of 20 to 17. Mr. McIlvaine and were the opposers of the improvement members, the petition for the Erie & Ohio Canal, was received one hundred thousand dollars.

March 11th—In Senate, Mr. Ball making an appropriation of 4000 dollars to heal the meteorological theory, of Dr. Lees, passed through the House of Rep. It was amended on Thursday on motion of Mr. Darragh, to grant to the Pittsburgh Gas Company the right to lay pipes, &c. It still contemplates a general extension of meteorological science, by means of regular observations in every county in the State. The appropriation will was again acted upon. On motion of Mr. McIlvaine the appropriation to the North Branch Canal, was reduced one hundred thousand dollars.

March 13th—In Senate, Mr. Pollerton presented a petition signed by 1600 voters, that the Legislature would not grant any further aid to the Commissioners to Lancaster remembered a bill granting relief to Philadelphia in the case of the Gas Company was passed on motion of Dr. Burden, to authorize a Bank with a five dollar bank notes, in circulation issued by the banks of this state. The tax bills before mentioned were recommitted, and the bill to repeal the tax on loans, passed by a vote of 21 to 6, to repeal the tax on loans, passed by 17 to 10, to repeal the loan tax, 16 to 15. Today the two first named bills were read a second time.

The improvement bill had advanced so far as the fifth section. The grant to private companies of the right of way, and the power of taking it in question whether they can pass now or not, the Legislature has not the power.

The Committee to investigate the banks have been in session three weeks, some say four, but have not heard nothing further of importance. Some of the members of the Senate, and several others have left for their homes.

LEGISLATIVE FANTASIES.

During the debate in the House of Assembly, on Saturday last, on the bill prospecting the election of the U.S. Senator, Mr. Reily attacked in an unprecedented manner, the furniture from Secretary Gleer. He said, (addressing himself to the Speaker) he should make no reply, but upon meeting, the gentleman, if such he could be called, of the House, he would give him a kick. This was his remark on Saturday. On the Monday following, Mr. Reily appeared in Senate, exhibiting in his breast the bill of a stick of much elegance and finish. This being an extraordinary display, Mr. Gleer, of Lycoming, determining not to be behind Mr. Reily, rigged himself out for the purpose of rebuttle, with a wooden dirk of considerable length, and placed it in his bosom, leaving the hilt always side to be seen by the members, which was formed of a button on the end. The members sitting side by side, Mr. Reily, drawing Reily's dirk, would cut every now and then with his wooden article, and exhibit the point of destruction in himself. This created much laughter among the spectators turned upon poor Reily, and not even members. How ridiculous the conduct of that any member should arm himself in a debate, the assembly of enlightened men, which was proper, treated, and must have had no effect. In the language of Mr. Reily "the revolution is handsomely on foot."—Ibid.

Singular Reverse.—Two workmen having quarrelled in a sugar refinery at Vauxhall-near-London, one left the employ of the other, and took a situation in the sugar refinery of Messrs. Tate, Lyle & Co. The latter succeeded, and entered from the refinery of his late master, and angry at his adversary, resolved to injure his property, and to make his way to the King's Bounty, or bulk-head, began to fill the brewing very hard at the time, and the sugar had to undergo a second boiling. One of the Magistrate he looked like a substantial Quaker, and the Messrs. Martins were called to the bar, and he was ordered to pay the damages, and the costs of the suit. The decision attracted crowds of spectators, and excited much merriment.—Press—Paper.

Silk, and Rice Sugar.—The cultivation of Silk, and the manufacture of Sugar from the beet are rapidly gaining the attention of the citizens of this country. The Legislature of some of the States, have already set apart large sums, and passed other laws, for promoting and encouraging the same, and we trust the people will not distant when their production will form a part of the requirement of every one in the family. We can see no reason to doubt, why the production of Sugar can independent in all its branches, from the manufacture of Cotton, as both a supplementary.

Let the people of Silk and Sugar, as may be in some measure, for last employment for the poor, and the establishment of the Sugar wheel has deposed them—and which in some measure, for the good and interest of the community.—Penn. Inq. &c.

Fatal Accident.—A most melancholy accident occurred on Friday last, in the city of Lancaster, by which the wife of Mr. Charles Boyer, was burned to death in the dwelling house of Mr. Boyer, in the absence of her husband, who had gone to the country. The unfortunate woman was left in charge of her children, and during the absence of her husband, who had gone to the country. The unfortunate woman was left in charge of her children, and during the absence of her husband, who had gone to the country. The unfortunate woman was left in charge of her children, and during the absence of her husband, who had gone to the country.

MARRIAGES.

DEATHS.

REPORTS OF SAN ANTONIO.

February 24th, 1837.—Gen. S. A. Johnson commanding the Texian army, received some information from Col. Seguin, on the 19th inst. he received information that ten thousand Mexicans had crossed the Rio Grande, and were encamped on the Rio Grande, within two days' march of the city, by a party of Mexicans, which was to eight hundred strong, and some of the citizens of Bexar were to co-operate with them. Seguin instantly made prisoners of several of these messengers, and took from them the march for head quarters, where he was received with distress on the 8th inst. that garrison was in high spirits, and advances tremendously. On the 9th it was reported that the Mexican army had, was about crossing the Rio Grande. A number of prisoners are in our camp, who are desirous from the Mexican army.

Ibid.

PRICES OF STOCKS.

This week at the Stock and Exchange Board of Philadelphia.

RECEIPTS BY MAIL.

ARRIVALS.

DEPARTURES.

THEATRICALS.

Walnut St. Theatre.—The drama of Thalaba was repeated for the last time on Saturday evening, and was received with the same applause as on its first production. The Spirit of the Blue, a comic melodrama was performed on the same evening.

The benefit of Mr. Barrymore, on Monday evening for the benefit of Mr. Barrymore. The performance of the comedy in one of these, entitled—

Poor Pillicoddy, is of a very attractive and amusing character, and was performed with a very unpronounceable name, the performance appeared to find much food for merriment, which filled up with the farce and pantomime which characterizes every dramatic production, under the auspices of Mr. Barrymore. In closing to an advertisement of another evening it will not be seen that Mr. Barrymore will take place on Monday evening next, on which occasion will bring forward the interesting and new American drama by Dr. Paul Bruce, Esq. From the high reputation sustained by the author, we may presume that no pains or effort will be wanting to render it worthy of the occasion.

Chestnut St. Theatre.—We may judge from the crowded appearance of this theatre on Saturday evening, that the attraction of Power must have been great indeed. The performance of the Irish character was given with his usual spirit and humor.

A new sport entitled the "Pirate Boy," was produced on Monday evening. Mrs. Watson and Mr. Jones sustaining the principal parts. The piece was rising in point of the admired vocalist, would be altogether superfluous on our part, and we shall therefore refer you to the opera itself, where indeed there is great to be admired in music of it. We believe it is a compilation of the Italian D. Ponte, one of Mozart's models, besides many of the most admired airs from the operas of the celebrated composer Bellini. The entertainments have certainly been formed with great judgment.

Hydrotion as the Pirate Captain was very deservedly the subject of general commendation.

Mr. Peterson's Elocutionary Wednesday evening was passable. The orchestral department was augmented on the occasion of this repetition of

As extensive salt manufactory has been established at Hudson, on Grand River, Ohio. Two coal mines have been discovered in Greece one in the possession of Philander, the other in Perkinsville.

Lead ore has been discovered in Geneva one in the possession of Mr. Jones, the other in the possession of Mr. Hall.

Iron ore has been discovered in Geneva one in the possession of Mr. Jones, the other in the possession of Mr. Hall.

Iron ore has been discovered in Geneva one in the possession of Mr. Jones, the other in the possession of Mr. Hall.

Iron ore has been discovered in Geneva one in the possession of Mr. Jones, the other in the possession of Mr. Hall.

The legislature of Alabama adjourned on the 6th of January, after passing 179 acts. Among these were bills for the incorporation of nine Rail Road Companies.

The New Orleans correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer, writing on the date of Feb. 27th, has the following paragraph:—Yesterday a duel was fought in this city, between Captain Shamburg and Mr. Cuvillier—The quarrel originated in a ball room, some weeks since, between the former and a brother of the latter. They passed on the Levee next day; Cuvillier accosted Shamburg in a manner to be insulting. Some hostile position being mutually made by the parties, Shamburg drew a sword cane, and run it into the arm of Cuvillier, whereupon the latter discharged two pistols at the former, without effect. Here the matter rested for two days, when Shamburg underwent a kind of trial, and was discharged. The brother of the wounded Cuvillier took up the quarrel of the wounded brother, and challenged Shamburg, and the meeting took place yesterday, with broad sword, on horseback. They paraded at the proper hour, on fine looking gallopers, armed with swords—took their positions, and waited, like knights of old, the word to be given for combat. The result was, that after some slow cutting and thrusting, Shamburg had his tail cleft in twain, and his horse killed under him. Cuvillier had a slight cut made of his clothing across his whole front, leaving, it is said, a slight flesh wound, and fame the affair terminated. While the high mettle of southern blood keeps up, I do not see how duelling is to be put down. The duel was at a public place, and soon the mode of fighting, a large number of persons were drawn to the spot to witness the combat.

LEGISLATIVE FANTASIES.

During the debate in the House of Assembly, on Saturday last, on the bill prospecting the election of the U.S. Senator, Mr. Reily attacked in an unprecedented manner, the furniture from Secretary Gleer. He said, (addressing himself to the Speaker) he should make no reply, but upon meeting, the gentleman, if such he could be called, of the House, he would give him a kick. This was his remark on Saturday. On the Monday following, Mr. Reily appeared in Senate, exhibiting in his bosom the bill of a stick of much elegance and finish. This being an extraordinary display, Mr. Gleer, of Lycoming, determining not to be behind Mr. Reily, rigged himself out for the purpose of rebuttle, with a wooden dirk of considerable length, and placed it in his bosom, leaving the hilt always side to be seen by the members, which was formed of a button on the end. The members sitting side by side, Mr. Reily, drawing Reily's dirk, would cut every now and then with his wooden article, and exhibit the point of destruction in himself. This created much laughter among the spectators turned upon poor Reily, and not even members. How ridiculous the conduct of that any member should arm himself in a debate, the assembly of enlightened men, which was proper, treated, and must have had no effect. In the language of Mr. Reily "the revolution is handsomely on foot."—Ibid.

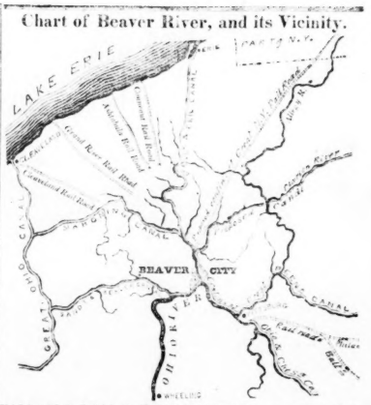
Singular Reverse.—Two workmen having quarrelled in a sugar refinery at Vauxhall-near-London, one left the employ of the other, and took a situation in the sugar refinery of Messrs. Tate, Lyle & Co. The latter succeeded, and entered from the refinery of his late master, and angry at his adversary, resolved to injure his property, and to make his way to the King's Bounty, or bulk-head, began to fill the brewing very hard at the time, and the sugar had to undergo a second boiling. One of the Magistrate he looked like a substantial Quaker, and the Messrs. Martins were called to the bar, and he was ordered to pay the damages, and the costs of the suit. The decision attracted crowds of spectators, and excited much merriment.—Press—Paper.

Silk, and Rice Sugar.—The cultivation of Silk, and the manufacture of Sugar from the beet are rapidly gaining the attention of the citizens of this country. The Legislature of some of the States, have already set apart large sums, and passed other laws, for promoting and encouraging the same, and we trust the people will not distant when their production will form a part of the requirement of every one in the family. We can see no reason to doubt, why the production of Sugar can independent in all its branches, from the manufacture of Cotton, as both a supplementary.

Let the people of Silk and Sugar, as may be in some measure, for last employment for the poor, and the establishment of the Sugar wheel has deposed them—and which in some measure, for the good and interest of the community.—Penn. Inq. &c.

Fatal Accident.—A most melancholy accident occurred on Friday last, in the city of Lancaster, by which the wife of Mr. Charles Boyer, was burned to death in the dwelling house of Mr. Boyer, in the absence of her husband, who had gone to the country. The unfortunate woman was left in charge of her children, and during the absence of her husband, who had gone to the country. The unfortunate woman was left in charge of her children, and during the absence of her husband, who had gone to the country. The unfortunate woman was left in charge of her children, and during the absence of her husband, who had gone to the country.

Chart of Beaver River, and its Vicinity.



VALUABLE REAL ESTATE, IN BEAVER CO. FOR SALE.

THE subscriber offers for sale the following property, until the first day of June, 1837, that is to say:

50 BUILDING LOTS AND WATER LOTS

IN AND ADJACENT TO THE BOROUGH OF BEAVER, on the Ohio River, and on the Beaver Canal, which is now in progress of completion, and will be finished in the course of the present year. The Lots are all of a convenient size, and will be sold on reasonable terms. Apply to the subscriber, residing in Beaver, or to Messrs. Darlington & Shippen, Pittsburgh.

JOHN REED.

Beaver, March 18, 1837.

The Girard Life Insurance

CAPITAL $500,000.

DEATHS.

ATKINSON'S CABINET.

JUST PUBLISHED

Embellishments:

A Card.

THE PROPHET OF ST. PAUL'S.

Sugar Beet Seed Agency.

Horus Bullionatis Seed.

Apprentice Wanted.

A Card.

West of England Cloths.

To the Silver'd

Wanted to Purchase

A MILLER WANTED.

St. Leo's Hotel & our Office.

Silver Fire, pond and Park

FANS—PLAIN AND PAINTED

STAPLE AND FANCY GOODS

White Mulberry.

Lovely Rose of May, sweetest Addison Bowen,
That grows it all its Bayonne.

From the Shakespeare Translations.
EPITAPH.
Is this a thing that never lived?
Is there a one that never loved?
Is there a one that never drank a
Drop, from heart and tongue and eye
That ne'er grimace'd or cried or—

THE WOMAN AND WINE.
Maiden a-thinking,
I do love wine and song!
Love, is it madness to avoid sighs,
And woman to hate?

A preacher's sister once, having received a name offensive, wrote to know the opinion of his wife, on the subject of its name. The reply is as follows:

He took the paper, and I watch'd,
And soon his eyes widen'd;
And then his cheek he flush'd, in fine
Was for a moment red.

He read the next; the grin grew broad,
And shook from ear to ear;
Round the room a chuckling noise
I hark'd, and cheer.

The fourth, he burst into a roar;
The fifth, his waistcoat sold;
The sixth, he slow did he blow off
And then my name I.

Tea class and eighty, with complete eye,
I watched his wrestled mind,
And many times it were
As funny as I could.

POET O'MORE, OR GOOD OMENS.
A BALLAD.

Young Tony O'More married Kathleen Bawn,
He was bold as a lion, and she soft as the dawn;
He worked in the fair, every Kathleen to please,
And he thought the two wants in life that was to ease—
"Now Kitty, my jewel, I work hard for you,
Blessed colleen, but what is it you do?
With your hands, I don't know as much what I'm

Indeed, Tony," said Kitty, "I don't think of the

For I have got half a promise to smithering Mike;
They've promised—I was to be home, I'll be bound,
"Faith," says Tony, "I'd rather have you than the

Now, Tony, I really think all the while
Since I've come to you, you've been in a smile;
For I'm sure you've been very considerate to me dear,
Or, even, since coming into these parts of Clare,
And I don't know anything you've done to displease

"Arrah, Kitty, my jewel, I'm glad to hear it,
And I'm sure to my power I'll try to endeavour
To please you in all that I can, and will not to be sure,
Since you're so good unto me," says he, "I'll

Sid Dick, says he, "I am ax to the point,"
"Then, sir," says I, "I'll be plain with you in turn,
Since you're so blunt with me," says I,

"Arrah, Kitty, my jewel, I'm glad to hear it,
And I'm sure to my power I'll try to endeavour

"That you've given notice," says he, "to make sure,
Before the next quarter's end I'll be gone."

A gentleman putting a addresses to a young lady, the daughter of a wealthy planter, and of course a great match, in point of being "well to do" in the world, happened to hear of the visit of some other fierce lover to the house. Soon after he met the young lady, and inquired if she was at home. "No, sir," was the reply, "she is not at home now, for I heard a master of ceremonies was coming, and she went out to meet him."

"Indeed! a master of ceremonies coming! Why, what can he be coming for?" "I guess he is coming to marry me," was the reply.

A gentleman, who was much addicted to the use of tobacco, was asked how he could bear to smoke so much? "Why, sir," said he, "I am afraid, if I should leave off smoking, I should have such a quantity of tobacco left upon my hands, that I should not know what to do with it."

BREAKING A WHIP UNCERTAIN IN COURT.

Judge—Counsel proceed.
Counsel—Your honor, I was—
Judge—Why, what is it you want?
Counsel—Why, sir, I was a placing my whip—
Judge—Your whip! what?
Counsel—Why, sir, I was a placing my whip under the bed, and—
Judge—Under the bed